Lockington's Priceless Paper

NO LONGER A DROUGHT AT OUR LOCAL WATERING HOLE

Allen & Therese Macdermid are extremely appreciative of the Lockington Community for their ongoing support of the Hotel, particularly after returning to running the establishment in recent weeks.

The Macdermids have owned our Local Pub since 2004, when they purchased it from Neil & Shirley Maddison. Their family ran the Hotel until May 2007, when it was leased to Mark & Tanya Elliott. Allen & Therese then returned for about 6 months in late 2012, before leasing the Hotel to Sandy & James Schroen.

After operating just the bar for the first 8 weeks, the Macdermids have finally secured a cook, so the business is now back to full operation. Judith (pictured right) admits that she has a big passion for cooking, having cooked with her mum from a very young age. She has only been in the area since March this year, but comes to the Hotel with 10 years of experience, cooking for Shearing Crews, helping out at local pubs, and also managing a Road House Restaurant in Hay for 3 years. She loves cooking dishes from all over the world, but also working with new ideas and creating recipes. Judith hopes to create a menu based on local interests and working closely with the owners around menu ideas, she has already received a range of feedback to her facebook request for menu suggestions.

On their first night of meals, many dined at the Hotel, and from all reports they were very happy with the cross section of meals and their pricing, so please go and support this local establishment.

Please see page 10 advert for opening hours and contact phone number.

ODE TO CHANNEL 25

Water is a precious commodity and we need to preserve it for life and for future generations. The conversion of the open channels to pipeline will help to prevent evaporation of this precious resource.

My heart tells it differently. We enjoyed having the open channel flowing by the front of our property. We became amateur birdwatchers due to the wide variety of bird life such as pelicans, ibis, the family of ducks and the white heron who used the channel as a food source.

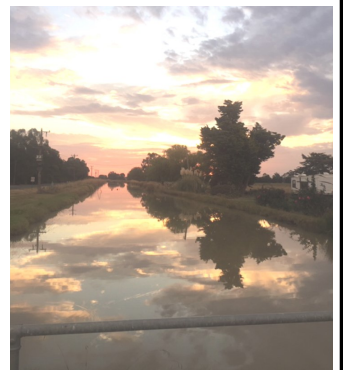

Our city grandchildren were both excited and intrigued by lowering the yabbie nets into the channel and checking them regularly to see how many yabbies had been caught! They then released them back so that they could grow a lot more! Their grandfather managed to catch some bigger yabbies and enjoyed a feast.

Our neighbour's grandchildren would come down for a swim or bring their kayaks on the hot summer days. Their shrieks of laughter livened up the air as they splashed around or fell out of the kayak!

There was a soothing and refreshing sound of the waterfall in the channel that ran along the side of our home that added to the peaceful ambience. I would sit and reflect that the Goulburn River stretched up here via the channel. It flows past my home town where I grew up and it gave me a sense of being connected to family. Many childhood memories of family picnics and fishing expeditions came flooding back.

Now we are looking to the future. We are planning to plant native trees that will survive here and attract different species of birds. Our amateur birdwatching will have a different focus.

Thank you Channel 25 for the pleasure you have given to us.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ... MARY THOMAS

Hello again Everyone,

When the 'Great War' finally came to an end with the signing of the Armistice on 11 November, 1918, there was rejoicing around the world and the people of this district joined in the general merrymaking. Residents from throughout the region came together to participate in several Victory/Peace celebratory functions which were held; the first at Bamawm, on 13 November, the next at Ballendella, on 16 November, and finally an event at Tennyson, on 18 November. This last celebration was reported in full by the Rochester Express, on 23 November, 1918, and read as follows: - "On Monday at the M.I.A. Hall, victory celebrations were held, and, although everything was done hurriedly, the gathering was a great success. A programme of sports was held for the kiddies, and presents were made to all under 16 years. The procession was led by two returned men, Ptes Wright (M.M.) and Kellett, on grey horses, with the Rochester Band, followed by lorries for each of the Allies, flags of the Allies and Red Cross, with buggies and jinkers representing Peace, Spring, etc., and seven young ladies on horses, each with a letter which, when lined up spelled 'Victory'. The riders were the Misses Singer, Helmore (2), Rake, Smith, Druce, and Martin. Then a varied collection of comic characters, one being the absent-minded beggar who carried his dog and led his swag. We must not forget the tin band formed by the boys of Bamawm Railway Station State School. [This school was later renamed as Lockington.]"

The Echuca and Moama Advertiser also carried a report of the event in its issue of 26 November, 1918. It stated that the procession was one that would long be remembered, and to use the words of Mr. Allan, M.L.A., it "was the finest he had seen outside of the large cities." The committee was fortunate in securing the attendance of the region's representative, Mr Allan, M.L.A., who was motored there by Mr Ben Cox. The chairman, Councillor Ham, introduced him to the gathering which he addressed, and then formally declared the celebration open. Councillors Martin and Rankin, also spoke. The Express went on to report that "The sports were concluded by races for adults. The Gretna Green, race was won by L. Oliver and M. O'Brien, potato race W. Slattery, cigarette race C. Bain, stepping chain L. Oliver, sheep guess H. Bolshaw."

In the evening the hall was crowded at a concert, presided over by Councillor Ham, which the Echuca and Moama Advertiser reported "opened with the singing of the Doxology and National Anthem. The Misses Clancy rendered an overture, children of the Bamawm Central State school (pupils of Mrs. Hubble) danced pleasingly the sailors' hornpipe, a vocal duet was contributed by the Misses Helmore, a quartette by the Misses Cunningham and Sinclair, recitations by Miss L. Elliott and Miss A. Scurrah, and songs by Mrs. Cobbet, Miss Walsh, and Messrs. N. Ham. K. Shotten, G. F. Long, and J. Whinfield. At the close, Mr. G. Turvey moved a hearty vote of thanks to all who had assisted during the great functions. This was carried by acclamation and the concert closed with the singing of the National Anthem and 'God Bless Our Splendid Men.'" The rest of the evening was given to dancing, with music provided by Mr O'Brien, Mrs J. Y. Anderson, and Misses Anderson, Clancy, and Sinclair. The organising committee (for whom Mr. W. Joyce was chairman and Cr. Ham secretary) were congratulated upon the success of the celebrations, all profits from which were devoted to the Soldiers' Memorial Fund.

The first party of returning ANZACs disembarked on Australian soil on 18 November, 1918, and on 19 November, the Echuca and Moama Advertiser was able to relay the welcome news, received from the quarantine authorities, that there was no influenza among the first large batch of returning Anzacs who had arrived at Fremantle. "The men of the leave draft were all well, and their vessel was granted pratique for all ports to Melbourne". The quarantine measures were proving effective, and it was noted as a promising sign that the vaccine prepared in the Commonwealth serum laboratory had been giving very satisfactory results in the treatment of cases in Sydney.

The Rochester Express reported on 30 November, 1918, that influenza had prevailed in Rochester for a considerable time, and the two local private hospitals could hardly accommodate the patients. The local doctor was having difficulty coping with the situation, but it was expected that Dr Campbell, who had been at the Palestine front, would return to the district soon thus providing some relief. The worst cases were those in which pneumonia supervened and many district residents had been attacked by it including some who were advanced in years. Just possibly this was the case for Mr. James Wright, one of the pioneer residents of the Bamawm district who, the Echuca and Moama Advertiser reported, was then an inmate of a Rochester private hospital, suffering from pneumonia. Mr. Wright was an octogenarian.

*That is all for this time,
 Marg O'Brien*

SAVE THE CHRISTMAS POSTAGE STAMPS

Charitable organisations, and places in crisis benefit from used stamps, which are sorted and sold overseas and to stamp collectors. Please save your stamps, trim to 3mm (1/8") around and give to Beryl Marshall, 2 Burns Street, or Anne Hutchinson at the Business Centre. Discard stamps which are heavily franked; torn or skinned; biro/pencil cancelled or covered in sticky tape. If you don't want to trim, please cut a large margin (perhaps 1/4 of the envelope), or give the whole envelope and volunteers with 'Sammy Stamp' in Melbourne will trim them. With technology postage stamps are becoming rare, so please help those less fortunate this Christmas.

EULOGY

Kathleen Olive Cobbett (nee. Helmore) 6 September 1921 – 28 October 2018

Kath was the eldest of three, sister to Bob and Vernon. Her father, Frederick Helmore, was a WWI soldier on the Western front in France. He married Lorrie Gee before he enlisted and returned from the war to establish a soldier-settlement farm in Bamawm where Kath and her brothers were born.

Kath did well at school but had to take on greater family responsibilities when Vernon, as a teenager, required extensive medical care at St Vincent's Hospital. These events clearly had a big effect on her. She decided she wanted to become a doctor but found her education and resources (and possibly her gender) were not sufficient. Instead, she became a nurse.

Kath trained at St Vincent's during the war years, 1941-1944. She chose St Vincent's largely because of a connection with Sister Mary Oliver who was charge sister in the neurosurgical ward where Vernon had been a patient. She proudly remembered one day the class being asked an unlikely question by a lecturing consultant; "How many teeth are there in the upper jaw of a cow", and being the only student to know the answer. She completed her midwifery during 1945 at St Vincent's and the Mercy and delivered many dozens of babies during her training. Kath was highly respected as a nurse and by 1946 had become charge sister in the neurosurgical ward at St Vincent's. She then worked as Staff Midwife at Calvary Hospital in Hobart and in 1950 returned home where she was Tutor Sister at the Echuca hospital.

Kath married Martin Cobbett in June 1951 and left the nursing workforce to become a dairy farmer on the Cobbett family farm in Lockington and raise a family. Theirs was a lifelong loving and equal partnership in making important decisions about the farm and in raising a family. They became loving parents to Will (born 1953) and Chris (1955) and made significant sacrifices to ensure they received an excellent education.

Kath and Martin were always community-minded contributors. They were involved in St Mary's Anglican church, the Lockington Bush-Nursing Centre, swimming pool and school and were always engaged in the life of the community. One of Kath's enduring pastimes was golf and she was proud to be a founding member and, later, a life member of the Bamawm Golf Club for which she served as President and Secretary and occasionally was club champion.

Eventually they sold the farm to John Hewlett, next door, but continued to live in the farmhouse and tend an extensive garden and be part of the community for many years. In 1987, so as to be close to their sons, they moved to Clifton Hill in Melbourne. They brought their country ways with them and within weeks had met dozens of local residents. Martin died in 1992 but Kath continued living in her own home and was the centre of a circle who met daily for coffee (or a glass of red) in the local Café Quince. Kath is remembered fondly by many Clifton Hill residents.

Kath was a warm and generous mother-in-law to Jonathan and in 2006 she was delighted to become Nana to Eva. Kath was a kind, loving, independent, and outspoken woman who saw in Eva a kindred spirit.

She will be greatly missed.

Chris Cobbett

YABBY NETS FOR FREE SWAP

The Victorian Fisheries Authority (VFA) plans to change the types of yabby nets that can be used by recreational anglers. The changes, to be introduced from 1 July 2019, will simplify yabby fishing rules and ban the use of opera house nets in all Victorian waters.

Many fishers who have purchased opera house nets to fish for yabbies are unaware that these nets are currently banned in all Victorian public waters. The opera house nets were banned because their use has been implicated in the drowning of air breathing wildlife, such as water rats (rakali), platypus and turtles. VFA’s research has shown alternative ‘wildlife friendly’ yabby nets, such as open top lift nets, are just as effective at catching yabbies.

The VFA’s yabby net swap program will enable fishers to trade in their old opera house nets for free ‘wildlife friendly’ open top lift nets (while stocks last). Open top nets can be legally used in both public and private Victorian waters.

MEDIA RELEASE

PETER WALSH MPMEMBER FOR MURRAY PLAINS
Leader of The Nationals / Deputy Leader of the CoalitionTHE NATIONALS
for Regional VictoriaRED P PLATERS TO GET DISCOUNT ON CAR REGISTRATION

Tuesday 6 November 2018

Red P-Platers will receive a $295 discount on their car registration under an elected Nationals Government.

Leader of The Nationals and Member for Murray Plains Peter Walsh said the initiative was part of The Nationals' plan to tackle cost of living pressures for local families.

Mr Walsh said households costs had skyrocketed over the last four years under the Andrews Labor Government.

"Families have been slugged with sky-rocketing electricity and gas price hikes as well as 12 new or increased taxes in the last four years under Daniel Andrews," Mr Walsh said.

"Recent reports by the Essential Services Commission show that some Victorians may be paying as much as $1,000 more this year for their electricity or gas.

"For young rural Victorians, owning a car is essential when starting in the workforce, taking up a trade or further studies.

"About 50,000 Victorians get their red P-Plates each year. This commitment will make a real difference to young people struggling with the extra costs of buying and owning a car and other costs of life after school."

Mr Walsh said The Nationals would ease the cost of living through better economic management and a series of programs to put more money in the pockets of Victorians.

"We have already announced free school books for all secondary students at public schools which will save families around $2,800 a student throughout secondary school," Mr Walsh said.

"We have also announced that Victorian households will save up to $100 a year on their water bills through better management of the water corporations.

"We are also committed to delivering cheaper gas and electricity bills for over 900,000 low income earners by using 'people power' to deliver cheaper gas and electricity costs for over 900,000 low income earners that could mean annual savings between $250 and $530.

"Rural Victorians can't afford four more years of Labor taxes that will put even more pressure on household budgets."

The $295 discount for red P-Platers is the non-TAC component of registration of car registration. Red P-Platers will effectively only have to pay for the TAC component including compulsory third party insurance.

LIBERAL NATIONALS TO EXPAND COMMUNITY ICE ACTION GRANTS PROGRAM

Sunday 18 November 2018

An elected Liberal Nationals Government will expand the successful Community Ice Action Grants program, giving communities in the Murray Plains electorate and across Victoria more opportunities to implement community solutions to tackle the scourge of Ice.

Figures from the Australian Criminal Intelligence Commission show Ice use is rising in regional Victoria.

But under Daniel Andrews, cuts to Community Ice Action Grants mean fewer groups and organisations are able to access this funding.

Leader of The Nationals and Member for Murray Plains Peter Walsh said a Liberal Nationals Government will boost the Community Ice Action grants, providing an extra $1 million over four years.

"Community groups and organisations that want to make a difference are missing out under Labor's reduced program," Mr Walsh said.

"Only a Liberal Nationals Government will deliver more effective rehabilitation options and better awareness campaigns for young people and the community to help people get off drugs and get their life back."

Shadow Minister for Mental Health Emma Kealy said it was critical to provide more support to help Victorians get off drugs and get their lives back.

"Local people know their community best, which is why we'll support more local ideas to help Victorians struggling with addiction or most at risk with an expanded Community Ice Action Grants program," Ms Kealy said.

"We'll also broaden the approach to alcohol and drug rehabilitation with improved access to support to help people get clean and stay clean."

A Liberal Nationals Government will help more Victorians, particularly in regional Victoria, get off drugs and get their lives back, adding up to 60 new residential rehabilitation beds across regional Victoria at new centres in Mildura, Warrnambool and the Latrobe Valley.

We'll also establish a new $4.8 million Get Clean, Stay Clean 'step-down' support program for drug and alcohol rehabilitation agencies to deliver local programs to help people who have completed residential rehabilitation to re-establish their lives and transition back into their local community.

The Liberal Nationals will also introduce mandatory residential alcohol and drug treatment for young people whose offending or risky behaviour is a result of substance abuse.

MEDIA RELEASE

PETER WALSH MPMEMBER FOR MURRAY PLAINS
Leader of The Nationals / Deputy Leader of the CoalitionTHE NATIONALS
for Regional VictoriaLIBERAL NATIONALS' PLAN FOR BETTER FISHING FOR ALL VICTORIANS

Thursday 15 November 2018

Recreational fishers and boaters in the Murray Plains electorate will benefit from an enhanced fish stocking program and better access to Victorian fisheries, if The Nationals are elected to government.

Recreational fishing and boating already makes a huge contribution to our local economy, bringing people into the community to try their luck on our rivers and lakes.

Leader of The Nationals and Member for Murray Plains Peter Walsh has announced a Liberal Nationals Government's plan to boost native fish stocks to get more people fishing.

"Recreational fishing is a real driver of economic activity in rural and regional communities so we should definitely be encouraging more of it," Mr Walsh said.

"Already, many locals choose to head out to their favourite fishing spots for a weekend with the family or friends, but fishing also brings so many people into our region who spend money at our bait and tackle shops and fishing and boating stores, as well as other local businesses.

"A Liberal Nationals Government will work to make recreational fishing even better."

An elected Liberal Nationals Government will implement a Nine Point Plan for Better Fishing Across Victoria, including returning all licence fees into the new Blue Infrastructure Fund to improve boating infrastructure.

Working with the recreational fishing sector, a Liberal Nationals Government will also develop plans for the future, to make sure our fisheries are as healthy as possible, now and into the future.

Mr Walsh said the Plan will look at opportunities to improve access to existing fisheries and secure access to new and emerging fisheries.

"Recreational fishing provides so much both socially and economically for our communities, which is why we're committed to making the sector even better.

"If we're elected, we look forward to working with anglers and groups like VR Fish and Future Fish to get more fish stocked and more people fishing, including with a new fish hatchery at Shepparton."

When last in government, the Liberal Nationals invested an additional $16 million into recreational fishing projects, in addition to funds that were returned via the Recreational Fishing Licence (RFL) Trust.

With this extra investment, the native fish breeding and stocking programs expanded and have continued to grow.

LIBERAL NATIONALS CARING FOR OUR CARERS WITH MORE RESPITE SUPPORT

14th November 2018

Disability respite services will be boosted in the Murray Plains electorate and across Victoria under an elected Liberal Nationals Government, Leader of The Nationals and Member for Murray Plains Peter Walsh has announced.

A shortage of disability respite services in Victoria has left a critical gap in support for families caring for loved ones.

An elected Liberal Nationals Government will provide $5 million in matched funding over four years to help disability respite services with set-up costs or to expand, helping to grow the sector to meet demand. This will enable $10 million to be invested in the sector.

Mr Walsh said families and carers deserved to have access to respite services – no matter where they live.

"We already have some fantastic disability respite services in the Murray Plains electorate, but they're struggling to keep up with high demand," Mr Walsh said.

"While there's growing demand and long wait times for existing services in some parts of our region, other communities have no access at all.

"This fund will break down the barriers of the high cost to establish new respite services, by partnering with organisations to help them turn their plans into reality."

The lack of facilities causes enormous stress and pressure on family members who just want to be able to take a break knowing their loved one is being cared for appropriately. Too many families seek help, only to be put on a waitlist due to high demand.

More needs to be done to change this and make sure carers are also getting the support they need.

Shadow Minister for Disability Tim Bull said the Liberal Nationals would ensure Victorian families and their loved ones are getting the support they deserve.

"Carers provide critical support for Victorians with a disability and they deserve our support too," Mr Bull said.

"Many disability service providers struggle to afford the capital costs of building new facilities or expanding existing centres, this fund will break down these barriers to grow the number of respite services.

"Only the Liberal Nationals will care for our carers."

Senator BRIDGET McKENZIE

DEPUTY LEADER OF THE NATIONALS • SENATOR FOR VICTORIA

MEDIA RELEASE

DECENTRALISATION A NATIONALS PRIORITY

Ensuring that Victoria does not become a one city state is vital to regional communities and a priority for the Victorian National Party.

"We've all seen the data, Melbourne's population has passed the 5 million mark and is growing at an alarming average of 2,700 people a week. This is not sustainable," Deputy Leader of The Nationals and Senator for Victoria Bridget McKenzie said today.

Joined by Nationals Candidate for Bendigo East, Gaelle Broad, they discussed the important role all levels of government have to play in developing strong policies that will make Regional Victoria the first choice for work, business growth and leisure.

"My state colleagues have outlined a comprehensive plan for decentralising our state that will help grow our towns, invest in vital infrastructure and create more local jobs.

As the first Federal Minister for Decentralisation I look forward to working collaboratively with them to ensure regional Victoria continues to punch above its weight and become a first choice destination for everyone," Senator

McKenzie said.

The Liberal Nationals have announced that payroll tax will be reduced to just 1 per cent from 4.25 per cent for all regional businesses outside Melbourne as a further measure to stimulate growth in country Victoria.

"The announcement that we will slash payroll tax will be great news for local businesses here in Bendigo and will help attract new businesses to our regional areas.

Adele's Shoe Gallery is a great example of a new small business into this community. "Starting small in Kerang and now not only having multiple shop fronts but also a portable shop to take across the state is an amazing success story and a tribute to Adele's perseverance and hard work," Gaelle Broad said.

"Gaelle is a strong candidate who is passionate about this region and like the entire Nationals team, is committed to decentralisation and growing our regions across all levels of Government.

Victorians will be given a choice on November 24th and that choice will prove pivotal for the future of our great state." Senator McKenzie said.

Support package for farmers facing drought and dry conditions

AGRICULTURE VICTORIA

DRY SEASONS SUPPORT

The Victorian Government recently announced a range of new support programs to assist farmers throughout Victoria to prepare and respond to dry seasonal conditions.

The range of programs and initiatives available include technical, financial, personal and regional support.

If you have specific questions for Agriculture Victoria staff or want to provide feedback call us on 136 186.

Free help on hand for farmers to help manage dry times

Hundreds of farmers across the Goulburn-Murray Water area can benefit from a free and independent service to help them cope with the current, and future, dry conditions.

The Plan2Farm program helps farmers and their families make decisions about all aspects of their enterprise, including drought resilience and preparedness.

North Central Catchment Management Authority (CMA) Project Manager Shari Rankin said for a lot of farmers across the region, planning has never been more important. <https://bit.ly/2DeNcSt>

New energy grants for agriculture

Tier Two and Tier Three on-farm energy grants are now open as part of Agriculture Victoria's Agriculture Energy Investment Plan.

The grants program, which forms a key part of the $30 million Plan, will help farmers better manage energy costs by improving energy efficiency, boosting own generation and investing in new technology.

Grants are available to eligible farm businesses for projects that achieve energy efficiency or provide the business with energy productivity improvements to support longer-term sustainability.

An on-farm energy assessment is required to be eligible for an on-farm energy grant.

All grant streams are now open. Apply for an on-farm energy assessment or an on-farm energy grant online at agriculture.vic.gov.au/agenenergy

LBU TENNIS CLUB

Welcome to the LBU Tennis Club News.

The season has started off very well with over 26 children playing competition tennis each Saturday morning and over 26 adults playing in the afternoon competition. We have over 30 children participating in tennis lessons on Monday nights with club coach Milo (Paul) Condliffe.

The senior team in the Greater Goulburn competition have continued their great form from last year. They have won every game. Young Stanley Brentnall has stepped up to this level and shown he can mix it with the more experienced members. Coby Cox has also enjoyed the experience of playing at the top level.

LBU 1 has had a slow start to the season with a few new faces in the team which is great. We welcome our new supermarket owners Ged and Breanna Giddings to the club and team. Ged and Ian Haines are a great combination, serve and volley and loving an overhead smash or two.

LBU 2 has a new look with new and old members. Welcome back to Rohan Chugg. They are combining well each week with a couple of wins on the board and great tennis. This team has a hit up each Thursday night which is improving Blake Humbert's form and Dylan Stapleton's singles form has been great.

The junior A grade teams are both producing some young stars. We have the very talented Jacob Haines and Chelsea Jones leading LBU 4 and Coby Cox, Hugh Byrne helping Ali Howlett and Maya Cox get the wins on the board for LBU 3.

Our section B teams are putting together some great tennis but are a little younger than their opposition but with more tennis and encouragement they are loving it and improving each week.

The new beginners in section C are full of energy and are working together to win a few games. LBU 7 Nicholas Mitchell, Charlie Byrne, Kasey Stone and Audrey Giorgianni are 3rd on the ladder and LBU 8 James Brentnall, Lucas Holgate, Colby Roberts, Jessie Hall and Ziah Haines are 6th.
