Hello Everyone,

One hundred years ago people in this district, and right across Australia really, were coming to terms with the absence of war. Family members who had been serving overseas were returning to Australia and everyone hoped to resume life as it had been five years earlier. This was complicated by the fact that many of the service personnel who were returning were suffering physically and/or psychologically as a result of the trauma to which they had been exposed. In addition, the viral illness that had become known as the Spanish 'Flu was occurring in epidemic proportions throughout the country. In late 1918, the Bendigo Independent had reported the situation in Rochester as follows: - "Influenza, with its developments, has prevailed in Rochester for a considerable time, and the three local private hospitals could hardly accommodate the patients, while our local doctor has had a strenuous time of it. It is, however, expected that Dr. Campbell will have returned from the Palestine front by February next. The worst cases are those in which pneumonia, has supervened, and many district residents have been attacked by it, including some advanced in years. In Miss Pain's hospital there were at one time three patients whose combined ages amounted to 243 years."

In the meantime, thought was being given to means of memorialising those who had fought and particularly those who had died for Australia and for the Empire. One of the earliest memorials proposed was a statue, being erected at Ismalia, on the bank of the Canal, the Suez Canal Company having granted a site. It was a marble equestrian statue for which the officers and men of the Australian Light Horse in Egypt, under Colonel Sir H. G. Chauvel, had subscribed £500 in order to commemorate their fallen comrades in Egypt and on Gallipoli. There would be many more memorial statues erected at home in Australia, but initially local communities were concentrating their efforts on Honour Rolls. The Rochester Shire Honour Roll had been unveiled on 26 March, 1918 as was reported in the Bendigonian on 28 March: - The "honour roll, containing close on 500 names of soldiers who volunteered for service at the front, was publicly unveiled in the presence of a large gathering at the Shire Hall on Tuesday afternoon. Crs. J. Rankin (president), R. M'Curry, T. M'Master, P. Keogh and Lieut. H. T. Downe (shire secretary, and president of the Patriotic League and Anzac Soldiers' Protection Association) occupied seats on the platform. Proceedings opened with the singing of the National Anthem. Miss Doris Armstrong presided at the piano. Cr. Rankin eulogised the men who had gone forth at the Empire's call and paid tribute to those who had fallen in the fray. They were worthy of all honour. The fact that about 500 soldiers had gone from the shire was a distinctly meritorious achievement. Crs. Keogh and M'Curry also delivered brief addresses.... The business places of the town were closed during the unveiling ceremony, which was carried out by the shire president, the company rising and singing "God Bless Our Splendid Men." The honour roll was hung in the vestibule of the Shire Hall.

Most of my research concerning World War I and its aftermath has been achieved through Trove, the National Library's collection of digitised newspapers, which is accessible online. Unfortunately, only a few of the smaller local papers have been digitised beyond 1919, so I have been unable to access a newspaper report of the unveiling of the Honour Board at Pine Grove. Luckily, the late Miss Daisy McBeath of Pine Grove, saved a clipping of an undated report in her scrapbook. It reads as follows: - MITIAMO: A very fine oak honour board, bearing the names of the soldiers of the Pine Grove district, was unveiled at the Pine Grove State School by Mrs McGregor, senr., on Friday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering of residents. During the afternoon Mr Potts (Methodist Church) presided over an appropriate programme of musical and vocal items, and his opening remarks on the solemn but joyous occasion were very fine. The children led the singing of the National Anthem and the Recessional Hymn, under the guidance of Miss Webster, head teacher. Mrs Potts' beautiful rendering of "Bugles Of England" and "Somewhere in France" were greatly enjoyed by the audience. Rev H Nichols (Church of England) delivered a stirring address, followed by a feeling speech by Mr J W Cant. Mr C Sims moved a comprehensive vote of thanks to all who assisted in the unveiling gathering, and was supported by Mr Andrew McKay. The ladies provided afternoon tea." Twenty-four names were listed on the Board.

The rest of the story of the Pine Grove Wanurp Honour Board is anecdotal, and a sad one. If any reader has a verifiable version, especially if it has a better outcome, I would be most grateful to hear of it, please. The Honour Board hung on the Pine Grove School wall for many years, and continued to hang there for a time after the Lockington Consolidated School came into being and the Pine Grove School closed. I have been told that the Honour Board was still on the wall when the school building was relocated to become part of the Lockington Scout Hall. Some time after that, the Board fell or was dropped and was broken. Its significance must have been unrecognised by those who were present at the time, and the incident was not reported to anyone who would have appreciated its importance. The broken remains were cleared away and it was not until the late Mrs Myra Sims, a Pine Grove resident, questioned the Board's whereabouts in the late 1990s that the story came to light. It seems a pity. These Boards were erected "lest we forget" and, in this case it seems, we may have.

'Bye until next time,
 Marg O'Brien.

MURIEL'S WEDDING WITH THE NEIGHBOURHOOD HOUSE.

Last Wednesday a group of local community members enjoyed an outing to Melbourne to attend the musical Muriel's wedding. After enjoying a cuppa and morning tea at a short bus stop in Heathcote, we arrived in ample time to have lunch before the show. Excellent seats, great entertainment and a comfortable bus ride both ways made for an extremely enjoyable day.

Thanks to the Neighbourhood House for again providing this opportunity to community members.

DRIVER REVIVER

The Lockington Lions Club once again held the Driver Reviver for travellers to stop and have a break in their journey and enjoy a cuppa and chat with the locals. It proved to be successful with over 150 people calling in. Pictured are Frank and Margaret from Brisbane, who were staying at the Travellers Rest for a few days and were very impressed with our warm welcome and facilities and Natasha from Kyneton who also enjoyed the break from travelling. A few of the members of the club. A big thankyou to the Fire Brigade for allowing us the use of the shed and surrounds for this occasion.

EASTER CHURCH SERVICE IN THE PARK.

A group of early risers welcomed in Easter at the first community Easter church service in the park. A short service was held, with parishioners holding candles as the sun rose.

A cooked breakfast of bacon and egg rolls followed. It is hoped that next year more locals will join us for a very lovely and meaningful start to Easter Sunday.

KOTTA BUSHIES

A successful social event was held at the Kotta Hall on Saturday 13th April with a bush dance and bbq. A gathering of about sixty people enjoyed the music of the Billabong Bushies, a five piece group from a wide area of the district. The band has done several bush dances in the last few months and with caller, John Russell, were able to get the patrons busy on the dance floor. The band said it was a lively night with enthusiastic participation by all present. The evening started with a barby of snags, risssoles, onion and salad prepared by Eric, Dylan and Eden. The event was organised by the hall committee led by Andrew Christian who made a very good speech of welcome to the band and patrons. Andrew emphasised the importance of social activities in the area for the well being of the district in trying times. He thanked all who helped with the event by promoting through social media and the Locky News. Preparation of the hall took a bit of work and there were plenty of helpers for the clean up afterwards. The hall is in its ninety third year of operation and the committee wants to see the hall celebrate one hundred years in 2026. The hall and fire station are the only two buildings left at Kotta. Previously, there was a railway station and two houses for the station master and fettler and their families, a Railway siding for goods wagons, grain shed, sale yards for sheep, pigs, and calves, a weigh bridge, post office, residence and general store on the corner and a Methodist Church to the West. The trees planted at Kotta in 1919 are a memorial to Australian soldiers who served in WW1. The palm trees were grown from seeds brought home from Egypt. A large copy of the original memorial sign is located on the old railway platform and is a point of interest for people who stop for a rest or picnic at Kotta. Kotta residents are also supportive of the proposed Lockington to Kotta rail trail. Kotta, being such a small community will have to work hard at preserving the few land marks that are left here.

AGRICULTURE VICTORIA

INFORMATION FOR LIVESTOCK OWNERS - LEAD POISONING

Dr Jeff Cave, District Veterinary Officer

Do you know what is laying on your property which could be toxic to your livestock?

Perhaps you have a farm rubbish tip or a shed with forgotten unlabelled products?

Something as simple as a discarded lead battery can lead to the death of some livestock and the contamination of others. Cattle, in particular, are adept at finding sources of lead poisoning such as old batteries, flaking lead paint, sump oil, and just about any other potential source.

Often the first sign of lead poisoning is finding dead livestock. Where affected animals are observed they show signs of central nervous system damage such as blindness, dullness and other nervous signs.

Removing the source of lead is the best cure. However, this doesn't help those livestock that are clinically affected for whom the prognosis is poor. Other livestock exposed to lead must not be slaughtered for human consumption until it is confirmed that their tissues meet food standards.

This can involve costly testing and a considerable period of slaughter restrictions as unacceptable lead levels can persist for many months in stock that have been exposed to lead poisoning.

Prevention is the best cure.

Livestock are curious creatures and can be expert at finding lead, so check for possible problems, particularly before putting stock onto new country.

When checking for lead poisoning hazards, consider other potential livestock poisoning risks.

Take into consideration fencing-off all old and existing rubbish tips, this will ensure livestock cannot graze in these areas.

For further advice contact your local veterinarian or an Agriculture Victoria veterinary.

WATER SECTOR SIGNS INNOVATIVE ENERGY DEAL

Coliban Water will join 12 other leading Victorian water corporations in a new energy partnership that will help to minimise greenhouse gas emissions and maintain affordable water bills for customers.

From October this year, the water corporations will purchase solar power together from Kiamal Solar Farm in north-west Victoria under a new umbrella organisation called Zero Emissions Water (ZEW).

Purchasing energy as one large organisation compared to separately, means the water corporations will procure energy at a cheaper rate which will translate to maintaining affordable prices for customers.

Coliban Water Acting Managing Director Neville Pearce said the Victorian water industry is committed to advancing projects that benefit the environment and create more return on investment for customers.

"This is a fantastic initiative that we are proud to be part of and it is so important to contribute to a reduction in greenhouse gas emissions for future sustainability.

"The ZEW partnership also closely aligns with our Strategy 2030 which aims to reduce our environmental footprint and work towards zero carbon," Mr Pearce said.

The deal will allow Coliban Water to purchase eight gigawatt hours which is 20 percent of our annual energy needs.

Victorian water corporations are leading the way for other water corporations and industries. This deal is the first of its kind in Australia and is a major step forward towards the sector achieving net-zero emissions by 2050.

The 13 water corporations that are part of Zero Emissions Water include:

- Barwon Water
- Central Highlands Water
- City West Water
- Coliban Water
- East Gippsland Water
- Gippsland and Southern Rural Water
- Lower Murray Water
- South East Water
- South Gippsland Water
- Wannon Water
- Westernport Water
- Western Water
- Yarra Valley Water

"In addition to the ZEW partnership, we've also got a number of other innovative renewable energy projects underway," Mr Pearce said.

"One of which is an 'outside the box' approach to resource sustainability as part of our Epsom Energy Demand Project. We are playing a pioneering role in this space for the Victorian water industry.

"What this means is we are a participant in the Australian Renewable Energy Agency (ARENA) demand response program. In periods of peak demand, we can turn off some of the non-essential energy intensive machinery at our Bendigo Water Reclamation Plant in Epsom.

"We also participate in a second program to help stabilise the electricity grid. Between these programs they help to lower our carbon emissions and reduce costs to our business.

"In regards to solar energy, a project to install solar panels is underway at our Bendigo Water Treatment Plant. Once operational, the 100 kilowatt system will reduce the plant's grid energy consumption. It is expected to make an annual saving of around $24,000 on energy costs and should pay for itself in three to four years of operation."

More information at zew.org.au and coliban.com.au.

COMMUNITY CHOOSES TAP WITH RECORD NUMBER OF WATER STATION BOOKINGS

Coliban Water has had its busiest season on record for bookings of the water trailer and portable water units as part of its in-kind sponsorship program.

Executive General Manager Strategy and Governance Roslyn Wai said Coliban Water had a suite of 11 portable water units and one water trailer which provide free drinking water at community events.

"In the six months to March 2019 the water units or trailer were at 76 events, which is more than ever before for this time period. We had 25 bookings during March alone.

"We have more than doubled the number of portable water units available so that we can get to even more events – sometimes several at once.

"This has been a fantastic way to help as part of our community sponsorship program and ensure people in our region are staying hydrated," Ms Wai said.

Over Easter, the water stations and trailer was located in Rosalind Park near the pedestrian bridge through to Sidney Myer Place for the Bendigo Easter Festival. Families are encouraged to take along their reusable bottles and drink plenty of water while they enjoy the festivities.

"We know that community values are changing and there has been support for water as a healthy drink option as well as a focus on sustainability. It's great to see this support for reducing single-use plastic drink bottles."

"Our sponsorship program also closely aligns with our Strategy 2030 vision and in particular, strategic direction number two – healthy people and environment. This aims to see tap water become the drink of choice because of its quality and health benefits."

Ms Wai said in terms of booking the water stations, Coliban Water can assist with a large range of requests – everything from sporting, cultural, arts and food events to school fetes, fundraisers, movie nights and so much more.

"Bookings generally quieten down over the winter months, so this is the perfect time to think ahead if you need to book the water trailer or portable water refill units for your upcoming event," Ms Wai said.

"Don't be afraid to book in early, which helps us make sure we can be prepared in advance."

To book a water station, go to coliban.com.au, click Community and then the Portable Water Stations link. You can also find more information about Strategy 2030 on our website by clicking the link on the right-hand side of the home page.

LOCKINGTON BOWLS CLUB

Report April 20

Club competitions are drawing to a close with the presentation evening only a fortnight away. The women have reached the final stage of the 100 Up championship with Leanne McInnes to play Phyllis MacFarlane for the title. McInnes outlasted a gallant Annie Haines in the semi-final after Haines held a slender lead mid-way through the encounter. However, McInnes applied the pressure in picking up 7-8-9-10 = 34 points over four ends to break the shackles and move into the final, winning the game 100-73. MacFarlane had earlier defeated Annette Brereton in a breath-taking game of bowls.

In the men's section the 100 Up has reached the semi-finals where Ray Hanson will play Graham Turner and Owen McPhee will meet Calvin Stout. The Presidents Trophy 21 Up championship has Ray Hanson into the final. In the bottom half of the draw Ian Johnson has to play Brian Kinnane in a quarter final. The winner will meet Calvin Stout. Don Isgro proved too consistent for Geoff Shawcross to reach the semi-final stage. These games must be played shortly.

Tom Davis competed in the recent Edinburgh Shield (R.S.L.) held at the Rochester Bowling Club. Davis bowled at his normal standard and was a definite strength in the side skipped by Dick Fuek.

The Lockington Bowls Club members offer condolences to Ian and Kath Palmer on the recent sad passing of Glenys (Palmer) Gibbons, a sister of Ian.

With the Good Friday celebration being held, the weekly Friday evening meal was cancelled and the lucky members draw will jackpot to lofty heights for this coming week.

The club Presentation evening will be held on Sunday 5th May at 6.30pm for a 7.00pm meal. Names are required for catering purposes.

On Thursday 2nd May the Campaspe Valley Bowls Division Presentation night will be held at the Lockington Bowls Club. The evening will commence at 6.00pm for a 6.30pm meal. The highlight will be the acknowledgement of the award winners for the 2018/2019 season of bowls.

Good bowling to all the local BDBD/CVBD Regional players competing in the BowlsVic State Championships to be held at the Bendigo East Bowling Club from April 24th - 30th. Local CVBD bowlers include Cameron Keenan and Ash Vesty (s) - Rochester in the State Pairs on Wednesday at 9.30am. Rob Wastell (Moama) will contest the State Singles on Thursday. On Friday, C Keenan, Vesty and David Keenan (s) will compete in the State Triples along with Ina Heywood, Lorna Wilson, Ann Williams, Evelyn Locke (s) from Elmore in the State Fours. The Saturday is the Champion of Champions. On Sunday Pat Schram and Philip Thorn (s) (City of Echuca) will compete for the State Mixed Pairs title. The six days of high standard bowling will be a treat to watch - support our locals.

Ina Heywood, Lorna Wilson, Ann Williams, Evelyn Locke (s) in the Fours on the Friday. Rob Wastell (Moama) will play the Singles on Thursday. C Keenan, Vesty and David Keenan (s) are the Triples contestants on Saturday and Pat Schram and Phillip Thorn will contest the Mixed Pairs on Sunday.

Report April 29: The women will play their final day of Social bowls this week. The game of Scrounge will commence on Wednesday 8th May at 1.00pm. All bowlers and non-bowlers welcome to play this event. Flat soled shoes to be worn and bowls are available. Names to be listed prior to 12.45pm.

In the club competitions, the women have decided the 100 Up championship where Phyllis MacFarlane defeated Leanne McInnes in a high standard display. MacFarlane gained the early break and withstood a late challenge from McInnes to win the title 103-94. Congratulations to both bowlers on a fine display of draw bowling. The victory caps off a consistent season of bowls for MacFarlane.

The club will host the CVBD Presentation night on Thursday 2nd May at 6.00pm. The event will acknowledge the fine efforts from all champions during the year.

Congratulations to the CVBD bowlers that represented the Bendigo/Campaspe Region at the BowlsVic State Championships, held at the Bendigo East Bowling Club.

One of the many highlights of the championship was the magnificent effort from the Elmore rink comprising Ina Heywood, Lorna Wilson, Ann Williams, Evelyn Locke (s) to finish runners-up in the women's State Fours championship. The team defeated G Baxter (Ivanhoe) 22-14 in the first round. In the second round Locke guided her team to a 19-17 victory over N McKenzie (Strzelecki) which propelled the rink into the semi-final, where they met J Bainbridge (Pakenham). With an all-round display of perfect bowling they defeated the opposition 21-12 to make the final against the star-studded team of T Brodie, C Gabb, K McKerihen and L Phillips (s). After trailing by several shots the Elmore women stayed in contention for most of the eighteen ends, before the opposition ground out a 22-10 victory. In the Men's State Pairs the B/C team of Cameron Keenan and Ash Vesty (s) (Rochester) played some perfect bowls to win rounds one and two before being eliminated by the eventual State winners, G Robinson - Ali Forsyth (Clayton) 7-20. Results: Round 1. def Jackson brothers (Wedderburn) 22-13; rnd. 2. def I Brimblecombe (Wangaratta) 18-16. In the semi-final the opposition were a little too consistent and displaced many of the Rochester close bowls. The State Triples was held on Friday with C Keenan, A Vesty and D Keenan (s) Rochester winning the first game after beating R Mays (Phillip Island) 17-12. In the second round they suffered a disappointing loss against N Devlin (Pakenham) 16-17 with final bowl from Devlin drawing the absolute shot. Rob Wastell (Moama) lost the first round in the State Singles. In a close game Wastell was level with his opponent R Baxter from (Queenscliff) 18-all then 20-all before Baxter closed out the game to win 25-20.

The Multi-Disability Championship Physical Pairs final was held on Saturday with Barry Brennan (Moama) combining with Josh Barry (Deer Park) to win the championship title 17-8 and take home the gold medals. In the final of the Women's Armed Bowls Pairs championship, Vera Curnow (Moama) and Joan Moss (s) Mathoura were defeated by P Bryant (Composite) 13-8 in a close encounter.

Pat Schram and Philip Thorn (s) from City of Echuca are competing in the State Mixed Pairs championship this week.
