BAMAWM'S EMMA FEATURES IN "BROADWAY AND BEYOND"

Emma Spencely grew up in Bamawm where she danced weekly in Rochester at ALTDC. During her school years, she spent her weekends competing in rural competitions, and her summers in Melbourne training intensively at the National Ballet Theatre and Ballet Theatre Australia as well as having weekly singing lessons in Echuca.

On a whim, during her VCE at Rochester Secondary College, Emma attended an audition at Kelly Aykers Full Time Dance where she was accepted a few weeks later, to begin training full time in Melbourne the following year. During her three years of studies, Emma trained with the country's top choreographers and industry professionals, performed in Park Life Productions 'Pippin' and 'Chicago', multiple corporate events including a Honda reveal Flash Mob, Crown Palladium events, both Victorian and Australian Dance Festivals, several Masters of Choreography performances and excitingly a dancer in 'The Very Excellent Mr Dundee' film due to hit cinemas later on this year. Emma graduated at the end of 2018 completing a year of Elite Dance and with a Diploma of Musical Theatre.

Emma is beyond grateful for the many opportunities Kelly has exposed her to during her years of training, none more so than 'Company A'. She could not be more excited to be making her professional theatre debut, in her first year out of full time, in Australia's only Broadway Company, especially on her old stomping ground.

'Company A' features eleven professional, technical Broadway dancers and singers and showcases all elements of a Broadway production number as well as going beyond to incorporate lyrical/contemporary dance components. It is a show that harnesses the energy of the infamous 'ten o'clock numbers' that are a feature of professional Musical Theatre and are designed to get an audience to their feet. It is a high energy, technical display of dance that will leave audiences exhilarated. "Broadway and Beyond" will be performing at the Paramount Theatre in Echuca on Saturday 22nd June at 8pm. Tickets available from the theatre.

Eulogy - Ruby Maud Parsons (Wolfe)

Trevor Parsons shared, "Mum died peacefully on April 16 was privately cremated on April 24." He thanked all who passed on kind thoughts and comments about Mum's life and connections with her. "Many comments have been very similar, describing her as a "lovely lady". That description we think best sums up Mum's qualities and is a theme we will keep returning to in referring to her life over the past 95 years.

Ruby, Rube even Ruby Duby to some, was born on December 10 1923, the first born to Kathleen and John Wolfe. She was born in Herberton on the Atherton Tableland FNQ. Mum's grandparents had been early European pioneer settlers of the Croydon Queensland district.

Brother Ray was born in 1929, and Des in 1933 passed away 1983.

We do not know a lot about Mum's early childhood but we know that during WW 2 she and her mother were living in Cairns. Mum was working at Harris Brothers, a Drapery Store during the day and when she finished that, she headed to the picture theatre to work as an usher, working two shifts a day. It was while working as an usher that she met Dad and their romance of nearly 65 years began. Dad asked mum to marry her so in 1946 Mum set off from Cairns on a long train journey to Melbourne, not knowing a person and no one in Victoria knowing what she looked like. Dad was still in the Air Force not having been discharged.

Due to War rationing Mum learnt to become a "lovely skilled seamstress" making all her clothes with what was available. Her love of sewing continued. At 90 years of age she made a pair of slacks for herself.

Mum and dad were married on September 7, 1946 and took up life in Lockington. They first lived with Brother Tom and Aunt Hazel behind the Lockington store which Tom and Dad jointly managed.

By 1948, Tom and Hazel, with daughters Elaine and Sue and Mum and Dad along with Carol were all living together. When I was born in 1950 Mum and Dad shifted into their own home in Burns Street, Lockington.

Mum was a very resourceful person. She and Dad quickly established the garden. She was particularly proud of the hydrangeas at the front of the house, a beautiful Camellia on the north side of the house and a Daphne near the front porch. At Burns St she became a "lovely" cook. As a teenager Mum didn't have to cook, as her mother worked as a cook so cooked at home. Mum's tapioca pudding is memorable to this day as are her roasts; including baked tomato and onion as well as tomato and onion salad. She wasn't afraid to experiment and change with the times. When Tiramisu became popular she produced first-rate versions.

In my opinion, nobody has bettered her Christmas cakes and plum puddings. They were sufficiently cooked on the outside without being dry with a soft and moist centre, cooked at the right temperature for the right length of time.

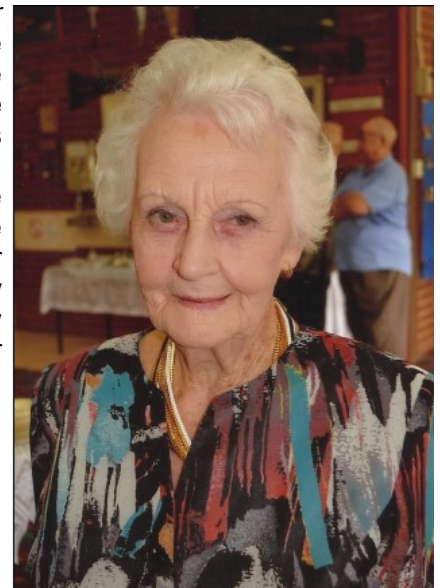

At Lockington she took up golf and became a "lovely golfer". Her game was based on finesse and style. She had a beautiful sweet swing and during her lifetime won more than her fair share of trophies, even scoring a hole-in-one when she was seventy.

When Mum and Dad moved into Rochester in 1966 Mum started again to create "a lovely" garden. It was always colourful and picturesque. There was always a tropical plant growing. She loved her roses and even in recent times, when she went to PAG, Mum would have a bunch of colourful flowers, from her garden.

My enduring memory of Mum's influence is to do with handkerchiefs. Each time as I was leaving the house she would ask if I had a handkerchief. Usually it would be no so I'd have to go back and get one. Now, when I leave the house I don't carry just one handkerchief but two! Just to make sure. So if you get caught short I will always have a spare!

Mum made us aware of her QLD heritage so when Jen and I decided to shift to Cairns it was no big deal it was just returning home.

The last "a lovely" lady description describes her appearance, how she conducted herself and how she presented herself. Mum's whole adult life was spent practicing diligently the motto "you never left the house unless you looked your best". That was the constant message she stressed to us as we were growing up. Always immaculately dressed, even out gardening at the Rochester house she would look smart, her best. She was a lovely lady who lived a lovely life and we will miss her greatly. Thank you."

LOCKINGTON SENIOR CITIZENS BIRTHDAY REPORT

Our 50th birthday was held earlier this month and a great afternoons entertainment was enjoyed, with twelve other district Clubs.

President Bev Brereton opened the afternoon with welcoming all present, and we sang the National Anthem.

The Milloo CWA ladies catered for the occasion with their delicious afternoon tea, which was enjoyed by all. Our entertainment was supplied by Kim Ritchie and John from Pyramid Hill, who rendered some lovely songs.

Winners of our main raffles are –

- Glenys Gordon – Elmore
- Margaret Rouw – Shepparton
- Kevin Young – Tongala
- Les Brereton – Lockington

The usual delicious fruit cake was made by Betty Mustey and iced and decorated by Jenny Keele – a beautiful piece of work by both ladies.

After singing Happy Birthday, Les Foster and Betty Mustey blew out the candles and cut the cake. President Bev thanked everyone for coming, also the Milloo catering team and the entertainers.

SCHOOL NEWS

Grade 5/6 Camp

Last week our Gr 5 and 6 students travelled to Roses Gap for their camp. The students, accompanied by several staff and parents had a fabulous trip, experiencing and trying things many of them had never done before.

Mother's Day
On Friday we celebrated all the special ladies in our lives with a special assembly and an afternoon tea. The Prep students held a pamper session for the ladies in their lives, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

CURIOUS AS TO WHAT LOCKINGTON HAD

On April 27 and 28 Lockington was busy with locals and visitors enjoying good weather, curious to see what was at the garage sales and perhaps making purchases, then checking out the great variety of Scarecrows – which certainly didn't scare the people off.

On then to Market Street curious to see what was on show at the Heritage Complex Vintage Rally held over two days. The rally ground especially on the Sunday was full of stationery engines, vintage tractors, trucks and cars, classic cars plus market stalls by local organisations and visiting traders.

A prominent feature, to celebrate the 80th birthday of International Harvester, was the bright red Optum 300 tractor, one of the latest International tractors made, which was kindly brought out by CIH Echuca along with their oldest Farmall 60B tractor. The grand parades were a great way to 'show off' that all these treasures still work – thanks to the love and attention by their owners.

Not everything happened out on the rally ground, outside the Heritage Complex building there were more stalls and miniature steam engines, and the Lockington Lions Club were busy cooking and serving the BBQ, whilst inside people enjoyed what the kitchen served - delicious morning and afternoon teas, lunches of soup and sandwiches, Saturday night's 2 course dinner, and Sunday roast lunch.

Sadly the PA system didn't want to work, but if that was the worst thing to happen, we cannot complain.

The success of the rally is due to the hard work of the Committee, also some local organisations, and individuals in the many areas concerned, so a very BIG thank you to all.

ANZAC'S WELL REMEMBERED

Lockington Community Centre was filled to capacity on ANZAC Day and were rewarded with a great program after several marched from the Supermarket, led by students of the school as the Colour Party. Guest speaker, Air Commodore Michael Bennett CSC, after being introduced by Wing Commodore John Glover RFD, noted that it is 104 years since the landing at Gallipoli, but it ingrained a sense of nationhood. Sadly many did not survive, and for some who did return home, an influenza plague throughout the world caused 15 million casualties. 600 out of 750 got the flu. Then for some they were traumatised and difficulty in settling back into home life, whilst those who didn't or couldn't go to defend their country felt bitterness. The women at home were the ones relied upon. Children were scared their father's would go away, and then scared of his temperament after he had come home. The Air Commodore continued, "All decisions to go to war are justified, and deserve to be supported. Commemorate what brings us together and not what divides. Fear and division lead to terrible outcomes. Lest We Forget." Anthems, hymn "Abide with Me", Poems, and wreath laying preceded the excellent Lockington Consolidated Primary School Audio Visual Presentation which was in the theme of the horrors of war, and our wonderful service personnel who work to keep us in a safe and peaceful country.

SWEET SISTERS AND ROCHESTER SECONDARY COLLEGE COLLABORATE TO PROVIDE A REAL WORLD DESIGN OPPORTUNITY

A collaboration between Rochester Secondary College and local business Sweet Sisters is providing senior design students with an opportunity to create work for a real client.

Year 12 Visual Communication Design (VCD) students visited Sweet Sisters in Bamawm to discuss the business's future design needs with owners, Andria and Frank Coonerty.

Andria shared with students the story of this hugely successful small business, and outlined their plans for the future.

The site visit provided students with an opportunity to gather valuable primary research through drawings, notes, photographs and tastings.

Students will use this information to inspire a range of new designs within the communication, industrial and environmental design fields.

'Andria's generosity and her support of our students has been simply wonderful' VCD teacher Ms Meg Doller said. 'This collaboration provides our students with an amazing opportunity to engage with a real client which supports their classroom based learning. It also extends their understanding of the processes designers go through when creating designs for a specific brief.'

Year 12 students will continue to work on their designs for Sweet Sisters into Semester two and will 'pitch' their work to Andria later in the year.

FARM SUPPORT FUND DETAILS

Northern and North West Victorian farmers impacted by dry seasonal conditions can access more support with the opening of the Farm Support Fund.

The $1 million fund is being delivered through an expansion to the Farm Business Assistance program which provides one-off payments to farmers who are most at risk of financial stress due to ongoing dry conditions.

All Farm Household Allowance recipients in 20 eligible Local Government Areas, can now access the Farm Business Assistance program for a one-off payment of $2500 to assist with costs.

The Farm Business Assistance program is being administered by Rural Finance.

For information on how to apply go to: ruralfinance.com.au

For more information about drought support being provided by the Victorian Government visit the Agriculture Victoria website at www.agriculture.vic.gov.au/dryseasons

DAM SAFETY UNDER THE SPOTLIGHT

The Victorian Government is warning farmers and earthmoving contractors to be safe around dams following two serious incidents in April, including a fatality.

Victoria has around 450,000 dams, many of which are on farms and private properties and have been significantly impacted by a lack of rainfall this year.

The soil around dry dams can be prone to collapse, particularly when digging or using machinery.

Tragically a man in his 20s died last month when he became buried at the base of a dry dam at a property in East Gippsland. It's believed he was excavating a trench at the base of the dam when it collapsed on him.

In another incident a farmer in his 70s was injured after his tractor rolled while he was working on a dam at Mt Moriac on Saturday.

To reduce the risks associated with working around dry dams, farmers and contractors should:

- Inspect the environment and identify unstable ground before commencing work
- Only use equipment they are competent with and only use it within its operating range
- Avoid driving machinery over slopes and embankments to reduce the risk of a roll over
- Ensure a hard stand area for excavators is stable and not undermined by vermin
- Seek assistance when recovering bogged equipment and/or animals
- Ensure they have access to a means of communication, either a phone or radio
- Avoid working alone, and have others check in on them.

Dry dams are as dangerous as trenches and the risk of collapse must be considered when they are being dug out.

ON-FARM EMERGENCY WATER INFRASTRUCTURE REBATE SCHEME

The On-Farm Emergency Water Infrastructure Rebate Scheme is now available for the purchase and installation of emergency water infrastructure for livestock.

The scheme is available to eligible farm businesses in the Greater Bendigo and Campaspe local government areas. The scheme is available for water infrastructure purchased since 1 July 2018 – guidelines and application details can be obtained from Rural Finance, call 1800 260 425 or visit ruralfinance.com.au

DRY SEASONAL CONDITIONS SCHEDULED EVENTS

Agriculture Victoria is scheduling farmer-focused activities to support businesses access information, plan ahead and make timely decisions relevant to their own circumstances.

MANAGING FARM RISKS PROGRAM

The Managing Farm Risk Program provides rebates for advice and assessments to help farmers prepare and apply for a new insurance policy that assists with the management of drought and other production and market risks. For more information please visit the Department of Agriculture and Water Resources website here <http://www.agriculture.gov.au/ag-farm-food/drought/assistance/mfrp> or call 1800 837 857.

ALTERNATE STOCK FEEDS: KNOW THE RISKS

Livestock producers who are using alternative feed sources as a strategy to manage dry seasonal conditions are urged to be aware of potential risks.

Agriculture Victoria Animal Industries Development Officer Richard Smith said with the reduction of available fodder sources due to dry conditions, producers may be turning to alternate feed sources.

"These bring their own risks, but there are some simple checks producers can make to avoid exposing livestock to feeds containing unacceptable and harmful levels of chemical residues, or feeds which could contain restricted animal material," he said.

Mr Smith said there are three simple things for producers to think about when purchasing alternate stock feeds:

- be aware of chemical residues, and
- ask for and provide the required vendor declarations.

Mr Smith said producers should make certain that purchased feed does not contain restricted animal material.

"This is any material taken from a vertebrate animal and includes rendered products, such as blood meal, meat meal, meat and bone meal, fish meal, poultry meal and feather meal, and compounded feeds made from these products," he said.

"Gelatin, milk products or oils are not included in the ruminant feed ban."

Producers should undertake their own due-diligence about the suitability of the feed being purchased, as some chemicals registered for use in crops, fruit, and vegetables may not be registered for use in stockfeed or for livestock.

“Some chemical labels prohibit the grazing and/or feeding of stubbles, wastes, and products to livestock, while others might have no maximum residue limits (MRLs) set for animal products and so any detectable level of the chemical in the livestock product could breach food safety standards,” Mr Smith said.

“Other chemicals may not have prohibitions on use of treated crops as stockfeed however, stock may still accumulate unacceptable residues as they can eat larger volumes of treated crops than humans.

“This risk can be addressed by appropriately rationing treated stockfeed.”

To meet obligations under the Livestock Production Assurance (LPA) program, and Primary Production and Processing Standards for Dairy Products, producers need to obtain a vendor declaration (e.g. Commodity Vendor Declaration and/or Fodder Vendor Declaration) for all stock feed/fodder purchased.

As dry seasonal conditions continue, and traditional fodder or roughage sources are expended, producers may seek by-products to feed stock.

By-product material, which is defined as ‘any plant material not produced primarily for livestock consumption’, such as citrus pulp, fruit pomace, grape marc, and outer leaves can have concentrated levels of agricultural chemicals which could increase livestock residue levels.

Mr Smith said producers need to declare if they have fed by-products on their National Vendor Declaration (NVD) within 60 days of selling livestock, with details of what produce was fed.

“Care should also be taken around root vegetables and cucurbits (cucumbers, zucchini, etc.) as they could be grown in soil contaminated with organochlorines,” he said.

“Organochlorine residue builds up in the animals’ body fat, when these vegetables form a major part of the diet and/or are fed for prolonged periods.”

Information on feed quality values and feeding risks can be found at: <https://buff.ly/2UPkQ6g>

SafeMeat has several risk assessment documents for alternate fodders available at: <http://safemeat.com.au/key-issues/chemical-residues.htm>.

BREAK THE PEST CYCLE BEFORE SOWING

With challenging and dry conditions prevailing this year, Grains Biosecurity Officer Jim Moran recommends staying one step ahead of pests by using farm biosecurity practices before and during sowing.

“Simple things can save you money in the long run by reducing the introduction and spread of pests, diseases and weeds on your property,” explained Jim.

Eliminate the ‘green bridge’

He recommends eliminating the ‘green bridge’ before planting by controlling weeds and volunteer plants from previous crops in your paddocks to break pest breeding cycles and reduce weed seed banks.

“It’s the easiest and most effective practice to protect this year’s crop as it will help to control insects, fungal diseases and weeds that are hard to kill or herbicide resistant,” said Jim.

“Removing the green bridge can also reduce the ability of rust spores to infect emerging seedlings.”

“Don’t forget to control areas along the verges of fences and roadsides. They’re often overlooked but are an ideal spot for diseases and pests to multiply and infect your crop.”

Clean machinery before sowing

Jim says it’s also important to clean your farm machinery, so you don’t spread weeds, pests and diseases around your property.

“The nooks and crannies in your farm machinery are good hiding place for weeds, pests and diseases as they can easily trap seed, plant material or soil,” he said.

“As this is the easiest way to move pathogens, pests or weed seeds around your property it is best to ensure that your machinery is thoroughly cleaned before planting starts.”

He also suggests getting any contractors or agronomists you use for pre-sowing spraying, spreading of fertiliser or planting to make sure their machinery is very clean before working.

“It may be necessary to provide a dedicated wash down area with equipment. Watch this area for anything unusual emerging in the following weeks,” said Jim.

“Also tell contractors about any weed or pest issues on your farm and where they are to reduce the risk of spreading the problem to other areas of your farm or to someone else’s.”

Continue to keep things clean during sowing

While planting, Jim recommends having an air compressor or a high-pressure washer so you, or the contractor, can clean machinery, including clearing seed from planters, between paddocks and properties.

“It is essential to maintain farm hygiene practices on your property during sowing,” said Jim.

“Giving things a quick clean before leaving one paddock and moving to the next can significantly reduce your risk of spreading soil-borne pathogens and weed seed throughout your farm.”

“It’s also a good idea to leave the weedier paddocks until last in your planting cycle to reduce the risk of spreading the weeds into uninfected areas.”

Jim is a biosecurity officer for the Grains Farm Biosecurity Program which is an initiative of Plant Health Australia and Grain Producers Australia.

LOCKINGTON BOWLS CLUB

Report May 6: Plenty of action off the green at the club during the past few days.

On Thursday evening the club hosted the annual Presentation night of the CVBD with 80 bowlers and friends present. All enjoyed fine hospitality and a great meal.

On Sunday the club held their annual Presentation night featuring several highlights. Club President Russell Shawcross and lady President Kath Palmer welcomed all in attendance including the CVBD Chairperson and BowlsVic Director Pat Schram.

Palmer introduced Schram to speak and present Super Veteran Badges to Margaret Davis and Betty Mustey. Details of the contribution that both ladies had made towards the club over several years of involvement were detailed. Davis and Mustey responded stating that they had enjoyed the friendship and being a member of this special bowling club.

A further highlight of the evening was the presentation of a Life Membership certificate to a tireless worker of the club, namely Tom Davis. Club President Russell Shawcross invited a somewhat surprised Davis to the rostrum and then detailed the contribution that Davis had made towards the club over the past 30 odd years. Davis had taken on the roll of Club President on two separate occasions in 2008-09, 2009-10, then later in season 2016-17, 2017-18. Tom occupied the position as Club Treasurer from 1997 to 2007. In between Davis had competed in pennant as skipper, team manager and Umpire. Other achievements included winning the B Grade championship in 2002-03, Runner Up in the Club Championship, Club Delegate to the former CVBA and CVBD. Davis had been instrumental in the upkeep and presentation of the club surrounds and also acted as Bar Manager for many years. Davis responded by stating that he had enjoyed being part of the club and had met many friends and bowlers on the journey throughout. Congratulations to Tom Davis - a worthy recipient of the Life Membership bestowed upon him.

Lady President Kath Palmer assisted by Pauline Humbert then carried out the function of presenting the awards for season 2018/2019. Club Champion: Kath Palmer. Runner Up: Lorraine Appleby. 100 UP Championship: Phyllis MacFarlane. R/Up: Leanne McInnes. Alys Humbert Club Pairs: Ann Lowrie - Kath Palmer (s). R/Up: Joy Weller - P MacFarlane (s). Several women collected the weekly vouchers with MacFarlane, Weller, Humbert, and Kathryn Tibbs featuring.

Russell Shawcross presented the awards for the men's section. Club champion: Ray Hanson. Runner Up: R Shawcross. B Grade Champion: Andrew Harris. R/Up: Owen McPhee. 100 Up Champion: Graham Turner. R/Up: Owen McPhee. The Presidents Trophy 21 Up is still to be decided with Don Isgro to meet Ian Johnson in a semi-final. The winner to play Hanson in the final.

At the end of the proceedings, Kath Palmer presented Russell Shawcross with a cheque for the amount of $10,000 from the Ladies Committee, being the funds derived from catering and other fund-raising events. Shawcross made a suitable response. The club thanked the catering service from Tongala on the presentation of a magnificent meal.

The club will conduct a game of Scrounge during the off season. This will be played on a Wednesday commencing at 1.00pm, (Weather permitting). Flat soled shoes required and bowls are available. All bowlers and non-bowlers welcome.

Congratulations to the Bendigo East Bowling Club in finishing Runner Up in the BowlsVic State Pennant Championships held at the Moama Bowling Club over the weekend. Representing the Bendigo/Campaspe Region, the teams performed well to defeat Ocean Grove 49-41, West Sale 56-31, Ballarat Memorial 55-17, Portland RSL 70-25 including a rare "eight" by the Aaron Tomkins rink. In the final game they defeated Stawell 49-33. Winning all games in Section "B", the team played Shepparton Golf in the final. Shepparton Golf had defeated Essendon in round five of Section "A" by one shot with the time clock coming into operation. In the final the Shepparton Golf proved too consistent for the Bendigo East squad and won the title Championship 58-45 and two rinks up. Congratulations to the Moama Bowling Club on the presentation of this State event.

LOCKINGTON BOWLS CLUB

Report May 13: The club entered the winter season with the popular game of Scrounge on Wednesday. An enthusiastic field of bowlers enjoyed the wonderful greens on offer and the results showed a true indication of the high standard.

The game high score of the day came from Lorraine Appleby with a fine tally of 57 points to shade a Dingee visitor Norma Thomas on 46 pts. On rink two Phillip Cunningham carried on his recent Pennant form to register 41 points to win from Ian Johnson on 33. It was a real battle on rink three as Brian Kinnane displayed great talent to roll off 50 points and score by a slender margin from an in-form Dave Thomas with 48 points.

At the Moama Bowling Club 2-day Mixed Fours held on the week-end, former Lockington 10 times club champion Rhonda Gallagher combined with three Rushworth bowlers to win the coveted event. Jean Sprague was the skipper as the rink had to survive three play-offs before winning the major trophies.

The Lockington Bowls Club offered condolences to the Rochester Bowls Club and the Thompson family on the sad passing of Phylis Thompson. Phylis was a well-known and respected member of the bowling fraternity and the sport has lost a true champion.

The club will hold their Annual General Meeting on Monday 3rd June commencing at 8.00pm. All welcome to attend and discuss several items on the agenda.

The game of SCROUNGE has commenced and will be played every Wednesday starting at 1pm, names to be in by 12.45pm. Both Men and Lady bowlers and non-bowlers are welcome to participate. Flat soled shoes to be worn or barefoot. Weather permitting this will be a weekly event in the coming months. 3 bowls, 14 ends of scrounge, $5 per player. Anyone wanting to learn please come along and join in the fun, bowls supplied for new players. Phone 5486 2374
