Ways to help a vulnerable neighbor

DURING THE COVID-19 OUTBREAK

1. Offer to go grocery shopping or pick up a prescription.

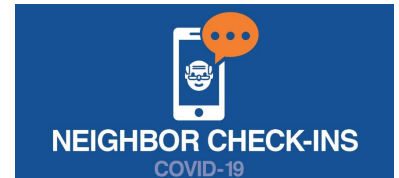

2. Leave a note with your phone number on their door.

3. Check in regularly by phone.

4. Set up a communication system: green paper in the window = "OK," yellow = "need help," red = "call 911"

During these COVID Lockdowns, please remember to check on your friends and neighbors, who may be feeling a sense of isolation. Living in rural communities can be isolating at the best of times, please do what you can to make others feel more secure whilst not able to go out to socialize.

And if you know someone who's in the vulnerable category, please offer them your support for shopping etc... and try to remember to check on them regularly.

Please STAY SAFE, and keep those close to you safe too.

Hello again Everyone,

On reading newspaper reports from the early 1880s, one realises that the selector farmers on the Terricks Plains faced the future with feelings of trepidation that had not troubled the settlers of a decade earlier. These early settlers had arrived in the region, full of optimism, but recurrent droughts and a succession of disappointing harvests had since whittled such feelings away. The year 1881 brought more hardship. Rabbits had caused devastation on properties in the Lower Avoca region and, by January 1881, they had crossed the Loddon and were making their way towards the Terricks Plains. Hares were also presenting problems. There was an ongoing, ever-present worry due to the infrequency of rainfall and, early in the year, there were fires; some in the stubble and the grasslands, as on the farm of Mr David Scott at Pine Grove, and on Mr D Graham's property at Rochester West. Tragically, there were others within, or close to homes. At Pannoomilloo, at New Year, a girl named Mary Regan suffered serious burns when her clothing caught fire as she cooked breakfast. In March, two young children died from burns – a little boy named Stewart at Terrick Terrick, and seven-year-old Amy Royle at Millloo.

The saga of the local people's campaign to have a railway constructed through the district continued. After the railway Commissioner's tour of inspection in October 1880, hopes were high that the Kerang line would have its starting point at Elmore, and would take a route through Pannoomamawm to the north. However, a decision had since been made that the line should commence at Eaglehawk and go through Raywood, too far west to be of any more assistance to our local farmers than was the existing Bendigo-Echuca line, which was too far east. Local Railway Leagues still kept abreast of progress, or the lack of it, in the construction of the Kerang line. They hoped that plans would allow for a railway station to be located at a point on that line which would be convenient to farmers from Pine Grove, Pannoomamawm and Pannoomilloo. Progress with the line was slow, but there was "a degree" of satisfaction in reading the Bendigo Advertiser's announcement, on 18 November 1881, that the Government intended "to push on with the construction of the line to Kerang as early as is possible."

Mr Archibald Yeaman, of Pannoomamawm, was in the news on 15 January 1881, when the Leader published a notice that he had "a very interesting display of grasses, sedges, and other native plants in the Victorian court of the International Exhibition, for which he has deservedly received an award of the first order of merit." A week later, Mr Yeaman featured again; this time when a Bendigo Advertiser reporter visited his farm, "Errington" in the Parish of Pannoomilloo, to observe the new "Haines's header at work." The reporter praised "Errington" extensively as being "one of the largest and best conducted" farms in the district. He then went on to describe the workings of the header, the labour-saving qualities of which impressed him most: - "The hands required for cutting and conveying the grain to the threshing machine, or stack, are three waggon drivers, two loaders, and one man to manage the header, making in all six men by whom the same amount of work can be performed with the aid of the header and ten horses, as would have required by the old method of reaping and binding, stooking and carting, forty-two men and twelve horses, allowing three reaping-machines, each having a driver, sheafer, eight binders, and two stookers, in all thirty-six men; then the carting-in would require three waggons, each having a pair of horses and a driver, while there would be two pitchers and one loader required in the field."

Obtaining farm labour was difficult, and the selectors were keen to learn of innovative ideas. The Bendigo Advertiser, of 29 March 1881, carried this report from its Pannoomamawm correspondent: - "A public trial of Cockerill's patent rotary harrow was held at Pannoomilloo, on Mr. Heep's farm, on Wednesday last. There was a large number of practical farmers present. The piece of land chosen to be operated upon was stiff plain, which had been fallowed in the winter and then scarified, and consequently presented a very rough and uneven surface. Notwithstanding this drawback, the implement did excellent work, and those present were unanimous in their opinion, that it was one of the best pulverisers yet introduced." The favourable impression of this machine's work stayed with this reporter and, in the 18 August 1881 issue of the Advertiser, he added the following: - "as labour-saving machinery comes into more general use, less men are required to do the farm-work, and these in turn will have to seek employment of another kind. For instance, Cockerill's rotary harrow seems to do the work of harrowing, and cutting up into fine mould, land that has been fallowed a long time, and it appears to do its work very well indeed. I do not know whether there will be a very great sale for them as yet, for very few [farmers] seem to take to new ideas if they can help it."

The opportunity of inspecting new implements at Ploughing Matches had diminished, perhaps due to a busy season, but the following announcement in the Advertiser, on 7 July 1881, looked hopeful: - "A correspondent at Pannoomamawm writes:- "About three years ago a ploughing match was got up here, and it was hoped that it would be made an annual affair, but last season it fell through. However preliminary arrangements are now being made to re-establish the society. Many farmers have attached their names to the subscription list." Cricket was the district's major source of recreation, as the local correspondent stated: - "As to cricketing, we do not do very much in the proper season, for the harvest and other things interfere, therefore we always play during the winter months. Every Saturday one or more of the clubs adjoining contest matches, and these are conducted with the best of spirit, for we are favoured with numbers of the fair sex, who grace the grounds with their presence."

'Bye until next time,

Marg O'Brien

AROUND THE BLOCK IN LOCKY!

The polls have now closed! After many comments, discussion and voting the most popular choice was 'Corner Block'. We would like to thank the community for their interest in determining the outcome. The 3 choices that were given were chosen for their simple 'roll off the tongue' names. Leanne and Brendan will be acknowledged with a plaque to thank them for their generous donation of the land. Seating will be installed in the coming months followed by the creative murals completed recently. Please be patient with the pathways as there is still more work to be done in this area. There will be an official opening celebrating the hard work and use of this vibrant community space on Sunday 24th October. This date was decided on in the hope it would draw on more community members in better weather.

Safety improvements

Intersection Lucas Crescent and Clare Avenue

Council is completing safety works at the intersection of Lucas Crescent and Clare Avenue, Lockington.

As part of these works, Council will be installing four 'Give Way' signs, as shown below. These signs will improve safety advice to motorists when using the intersection.

There are several T-intersections in Lockington which do not have signs or lines. Victorian Road Rule 73 – Giving way at a T-intersection covers this situation and additional signage is not required. Giving way at a T-intersection is the responsibility of the driver who is turning into the continuing road in line with the Road Rule.

LOCKINGTON RURAL FIRE BRIGADE COMMUNITY UPDATE

After nearly 32 years of service to our community our beloved tanker is retiring from its service to the Lockington District and the CFA. The tanker has made a fantastic contribution to the welfare of our community, through a myriad of fires, floods and accidents. It has also played a significant role in community fire safety education, tree planting projects, and is even known to have chauffeured Santa numerous times.

Past and present Lockington students from the last 32 years will all have happy memories of the tanker visiting our school and kindergarten, and nearly every member of the brigade have only known one tanker.

Members are currently undergoing training in our new (second hand) medium tanker.

As of 1st July our new office bearers have commenced their two year terms.

Captain -Eric Bloomfield, 1st Lieutenant- Garry Mustey, 2nd Lieutenant -Joel Rowlands, 3rd Lieutenant-Peter Staindl, 4th Lieutenant-Bianca Rowlands, Training Officer-Joel Rowlands, Communications Officer-Phillip Gritty, Secretary/Treasurer-Jeff Millard.

The brigade has regular Sunday morning training and station activities. We welcome prospective members to come down for a chat and see what being a member is all about. From there, if interested we can arrange your membership which includes training and wildfire clothing.

THE EDITOR'S SNAPSHOT

What do you know about where you live?

I know that I live on Dja Dja Wurrung country, and that there may have been a bit of a swamp on some of my property. I also know that this property was run as a dairy farm, there were a lot of 50 acre dairies around the district but dairies are now much larger around here. There were orchards on nearby properties too. I've only been here for about 8 years and have picked up a lot of junk from the paddocks, and keep picking it up even now, it seems to work its way up out of the ground. But what I pick up tells me even more about my property... because this is what I pick up... horse shoes. One of the previous owners was a horse trainer, of trotters, and I can still see where the trotting track was up in the back paddock.

I challenge all of our readers to find out and share with us about the history of where YOU live.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

"Keep our doors open" as per 'The Editor's Snapshot' in issue #918 set me thinking. I've been saddened when I've invited newcomers in my locality to events, eg. Casserole Luncheon, Vintage Rally, etc., and no interest is shown. I know there are others in Lockington who have had the same response. But then, there are the wonderful people who have moved into Lockington with the ambition to "live in the area, be part of the area" and have joined in one or more organisations. What an asset they are, thank you to them. Yes, if we are 'slamming the door' to newcomers, we should change our ideas and approach. Some people we don't see because their work takes them away from town, which is a pity. We can only hope they, and some people who have lived here 'forever' who don't support activities, will see the benefits of supporting, and/or giving a helping hand even in the smallest of ways. Keep LOCKington unlocked, not locked!

Beryl Marshall.

THE YEAR 2021..... THROUGH THE EYES OF A NEW LOCAL

Sure, I tick most boxes of different.

Brown, Gay Indian who was brought up in a white Australian Dutch family since I was ten months old in a what was a semi small town in the south-eastern suburbs of Melbourne in the 80s and 90s. Now a rather large town in the south-eastern suburbs of Melbourne which is extremely cultural and diverse.

Making the choice to move to the very small beautiful country town, Lockington, I knew I might be facing some issues.

To my surprise I have not faced issues I thought I would have.

It's EVEN WORSE in many ways.

The issues I face in a small country town is the fear of change, The fear of making head waves.

The fear of calling out things when they happen.

The fear of no one standing up and calling out bullies.

The fear of taking on social issues because everyone is of a certain age, and they may not like it therefore "we won't do it."

The fear of "if you were not born in town then you won't really belong, and you'll never be known as a "local".

The fear of speaking up against people who you admire and respect.

The fear of having new ideas knowing they will never go anywhere.

The fear of ANYTHING DIFFERENT of what they know.

Change is a scary thing. For everyone. there are people who will refuse to buy a mobile phone in this day in age. There are people who still refuse to use a computer.

If I'm being honest, I'm a bit jealous of those people. It's like watching 90s movies and you don't see them using mobile phones. I liked those movies best. Those people are not forced to use technology to live. Everything evolves around technology these days. We had to adapt to it. There was no choice for us. It became social suicide. We don't have to use it, however, if we don't, we miss out on knowing what's going on in the world and with our friends.

Facebook and social media has connected people far and wide however it has disconnected us from reality and what's important. Like everything it has a good side to it and a bad side. I've seen both side of social media where it has worked for me and against me. I miss the old days sometimes. Life was much simpler. However, we do not live in the old days. We live in the year 2021. The older generation are meant to be our leaders and are meant to lead the younger generation into the future and help them learn. Instead, the tables have turned. It's the younger generation that are trying to lead and learn from the MISTAKES the older generations made. It's hard to admit when you make a mistake, I know from personal experience. Sometimes failing is the only way we learn from our mistakes. I've failed many times and each time I've learnt from my mistakes and tried new ways so I don't make the same mistakes again. You learn from them. Being in a small town for 8 months has opened my eyes to the great injustice and all the mistakes that are happening over and over again. Of course people will give the run around of "you haven't been here long enough to know what really happens". The thing people don't know about me is that I take notice, I listen to the unheard, I think outside the box so much so that there isn't even a box in sight. I smashed that bastard long ago. It's no secret that I am a human rights advocate and I'm very passionate about standing up for what I believe in and stand up for those who haven't found their voice yet. Those who know me know I do a lot of work internationally for human rights. I'm not afraid to speak up, stand up and fight for justice and fight for people and communities. I see a real problem in our community. I see a real injustice in this community. The injustice taking place is the lack of voices being able to stand up and create change, being able to stand up against generations not willing to make changes and move a community forward into 2021. There are so many beautiful people in this town, and there are so many with so many great ideas looking forward to the future sadly held back by heritage and history, however, heritage and history is what made this town and we should preserve that history and heritage to the highest form of respect we can have. However, it's called heritage and history for a reason. It's what was, not what should still be. Heritage and history is not a life style. We should always remember and never forget how this town was made and who took part in making this beautiful town of ours we live in, we should take pride in that and always respect that.

We live in the year 2021. Don't fear it. Live in it.

Bowen Therapist In Training Jonathon Watson

Bowen Therapy is a dynamic system of physical muscle and connective tissue therapy that uses small, measured moves on the body to stimulate the body to heal itself. It has been found to be beneficial for many ailments and pain relief.

I am looking for around 6 to 10 people to help me gain my Diploma in Bowen Therapy over the next 6 to 12 months.

This will entail you being available for 1 hour sessions about every 1 to 2 weeks. These sessions would be free of charge.

If you are in the Lockington/Rochester area and are interested in knowing more, please contact me on 0481 718 824

CAMPASPE RESIDENTS ENCOURAGED TO HAVE THEIR SAY ON HEALTH 13 July 2021

Campaspe residents are being encouraged to take part in online conversations aimed at understanding local health care needs.

Murray Primary Health Network reviews regional health data annually, to help guide its funding decisions to support and improve the primary health system.

Every three years, Murray PHN conducts a major Health Needs Assessment with expert health data analyses supported by community consultation to provide a complete picture of local needs.

Population health figures show that the Campaspe region has higher than state average rates of people living with chronic conditions - such as diabetes, heart and lung disease – resulting in preventable hospital stays.

Campaspe also rates high on the index of relative socio-economic disadvantage, which is based on things like unemployment, low income or education levels and lack of internet access. All of these can be barriers to people accessing the care they need.

Murray PHN CEO, Matt Jones says that while data analysis offers strong insights, it is local experience that provides deeper understanding, context and perspectives to the figures.

"People who use and work in local health services are best placed to share what is or isn't working well," he said. "We want to hear about the things that make accessing services difficult, as well as any ideas for improvement."

"The more people who participate and tell us what is important to them, their families and community, the more meaningful our planning will be."

"Having a comprehensive view of health helps us work towards making the local primary health care system as effective, efficient and equitable as possible," Matt said.

An online conversation for community members will take place from 10-11am on Tuesday 27 July, while health professionals can attend one on the same day from 12-1pm. For full details, including to complete a survey, visit murrayphn.org.au/hna

LOCKINGTON BOWLS CLUB

July 12

The game of Scrounge on a Wednesday is continuing to attract quality fields to enjoy the wonderful true running greens on offer.

Last Wednesday the rink winners included Russell Shawcross (back-to-back) and Graeme Turner with Tom Davis and Alan Kauffman filling the placings. In the previous week of Scrounge, Russell Shawcross and Ray Hanson proved that champion bowlers are always difficult to defeat as they both carried home the trophies ahead of Andy Harris and John Fisher.

Scrounge will be held on every Wednesday (weather permitting) at 1.00pm. Names to be listed prior to 12.45pm. With the weather improving, a good day is assured.

Members have been travelling to local tournaments and enjoying all the hospitality and friendship at the respective clubs. Club Secretary Steve Peter and Ian Johnson (s) have made their mark at the Moama Pairs during the week, while Andy Harris and Ray Hanson have stormed City of Echuca Bowls Club and returned home with some rewards.

The club is waiting for the details of the week-end Regional Meeting held in Bendigo to hopefully put in place our plans for the season, regarding Tournaments and Pennant schedules.
