24-HOUR FUEL UP AND RUNNING AT LOCKINGTON BUSINESS CENTRE

Lockington District Business Centre's new 24-hour fuel terminal is up and running.

The terminal allows customers to purchase fuel using a credit or eftpos card outside of the Business Centre's regular operating hours.

The Business Centre's dedicated volunteer network will continue to offer assisted fuel sales from 8am to 5pm from Monday to Friday and 8am to 12.30pm on Saturday.

At all other times, including Public Holidays, fuel is available via the self-service terminal.

Business Centre President Jennie Keele said it had been a lengthy process to install the system, but the benefits to the greater Lockington community as well as visitors to the town, would be significant.

She thanked locals for their patience over the past few weeks as the Business Centre navigated the changeover which came with its inevitable challenges.

"There has been a lot of work behind the scenes to bring this project to fruition, but the Committee of Management felt strongly that it was an important step forward for the town.

"We are pleased to have delivered this service upgrade, which is the latest example of Lockington supporting its own progress," she said.

LOCKINGTON - LINES IN TIME

Hello again everyone,

We have reached October 1911, as we look back at the early newspapers to learn how the local farming communities were faring. The news of most interest to our families at that time concerned the proposed railway line to connect Cohuna with the main Bendigo-Echuca line. Local residents had been campaigning for the provision of a railway service to and through this region for more than thirty years, with their preferred point of connection to the main route being at Elmore. Most recently, they had made this clear to members of the Railways Standing Committee when interviews were conducted at Cohuna, Elmore, and Tennyson, in February and March 1911.

Interviews at Rochester at that time, had resulted in support there for a Cohuna-Rochester rail link. This proposal was strongly condemned by the Railway Leagues located between Cohuna and Elmore. For so long, they had sought a rail service to meet the needs of settlers in the region between the Bendigo-Kerang and Bendigo-Echuca railway lines but, if constructed, the Cohuna-Rochester route would leave the great majority of those settlers as bereft of rail services as they had ever been. However, on 13 October 1911, the Age reported that the recommendation of the Railways Standing Committee for the construction of a railway from Elmore to Cohuna had been tabled in the Legislative Assembly on the previous day. The line would be 5 feet 3 inches in width, and 57 miles in length, at an estimated cost of £195,500, with £9420 added for rolling stock. The route proposed would give railway facilities to the irrigationists at Bamawm settlement, within 6 miles of their holdings. Mr Elwood Mead, the chairman of the State Rivers and Water Supply Commission, was reported to have informed the Committee that, if settlers in irrigation districts were brought within that distance of a railway station, that would meet their needs.

This announcement seemed to contradict his earlier statements, which had caused the Railway Leagues to see his objections as a major obstacle to the original rail service campaign.

Then, it had been his widely published belief that the transport needs of the new irrigation settlers should be the only consideration. Now, though the local Railway Leagues, and the many residents of the northern plains who had campaigned for the line for decades, were thrilled with the Standing Committee's recommendation, it did not meet with general approval.

Next day, 14 October, the Argus quoted Mr J Graham, the Minister for Water Supply and Agriculture, expressing disappointment at Elmore having been suggested as the starting-point. Mr Graham believed that this would leave some of the Bamawm settlers too far from the line, and he considered that the railway should commence at Rochester. He maintained that some irrigationists, newly-settled at Bamawm, had been told that a railway was practically certain to be built for them. Furthermore, despite the above-mentioned report, Mr Elwood Mead was quoted in this latest news release as saying that "the Water Supply Commissioners felt that the railway should pass near to the heart of the Bamawm settlement. The route recommended by the Committee was too far west."

The editor of Elmore Standard, published a detailed account of the decades-long Elmore-Cohuna Railway campaign on 21 October 1911. He wrote of the various occasions when the route had been traversed and assessed by railways officials and dignitaries; of the huge public demonstration of support held at Pannooobamawm in 1888, and of the parliamentarians who were there to address the crowd of more than 1500 people; of the work undertaken by the local Railway Leagues in collating statistical information covering the whole distance from Elmore to Cohuna (These statistics had been utilised from time to time by members of Parliament, Ministers of Railways, and Standing Committees. The compilation of these figures occupied several weeks, and involved considerable expense); of the Railways Standing Committee having taken evidence from the various Leagues in 1907, with the result that they found it "inexpedient to connect Cohuna ... with the existing railway system;" and of the recent agitation, the meetings and conferences, and the concern about Mr Mead's attitude, his 'surprising' Rochester route, and the influence he wielded.

The Bendigo Independent on 31 October 1911 reported the following: - A largely attended conference of Railway Leagues interested in the proposed Elmore-Cohuna railway, was held on 28 October 1911, at Mr T O' Brien's residence, Tennyson, when the following resolution was unanimously adopted: - "That this conference of Tennyson, Warragamba, Pine Grove and Elmore Railway Leagues strongly supports the recommendation of the Railways Standing Committee in respect of the Elmore-Cohuna line, as this route, while serving the country most requiring communication, also traverses the centre of the original irrigation area, leaving no settlement more than six miles from any railway." The following further resolution was also carried: — "That this conference also strongly protests against the misstatements of Mr Graham [Minister for Water Supply and Agriculture] in representing the recommended line as placing the Bamawm settlers more than 10 miles from any railway, whereas the average distance does not exceed three; also, his ignoring the fact that the line would serve 15,000 acres, between Elmore and Tennyson, of admittedly the best land in Northern Victoria." The enthusiastic meeting unanimously supported a preference for the Elmore terminus. Contrary to Mr Graham's statement, as published in the Argus on 14 October, a new settler from Bamawm, who attended the conference, told those present that the plan as exhibited in England indicated a line which was clearly understood to be a "proposed" route. It was decided to telegraph the resolutions taken at the Conference to the Premier, and to the chairman of the Railways Standing Committee.

The route for the proposed railway line would be uppermost in the minds of all of the residents of our district as they awaited the Government's decision. Little else was reported by the local media, except for sparrow shoots and trap shooting.

COMMUNITY BANK BACKS LADIES DAY

Planning for Lockington Neighbourhood House's 2025 International Day of Rural Women celebration has been significantly bolstered by news that Lockmore Financial Services is coming on board as a major sponsor.

Community Bank Elmore, Lockington and Rochester is donating $2000 to support the annual event, to be staged on Wednesday, 15 October. The funding is being provided through the Bank's Community Sponsorship Program.

Lockington Neighbourhood House Co-ordinator Tanya McDermott welcomed the exciting news, adding that preparations for the day were progressing well.

"Our inaugural International Day of Rural Women lunch in 2024 was really well received by the community and we're excited to be planning an even bigger and better event in 2025," she said.

Parsons of Rochester will present a Spring/Summer Fashion Preview and Bunnings Echuca is once again assisting with venue decorations and raffle prizes.

"Sara Green, a health coach and author with a special interest in women's wellbeing, will be our guest speaker; she has overcome significant personal adversity and has a very special story to tell.

"We are also partnering with WomenCan which aims to both raise awareness of gynaecological cancers and fund important research to improve the outcome for women who are diagnosed with these illnesses."

Executive Officer Lauren Ross said Lockmore Financial Services was delighted to support an event which recognises the vital role of rural women in communities like Lockington.

"It's nice to provide an opportunity for local ladies to take time out from their day to day commitments which are often very demanding.

"We know that promoting social cohesion is essential to maintaining strong and vibrant rural communities which is at the core of everything Lockmore Financial Services strives to do," she added.

PETER WALSH JOINS STATE DROUGHT TASKFORCE

The Nationals member for Murray Plains Peter Walsh has been invited to join the Victorian Government's dedicated new Drought Response Taskforce as the State sinks deeper into the current drought crisis.

Walsh said when he was approached by Premier Jacinta Allan to join her taskforce, he had no hesitation in accepting.

"This is not about politics; this is about coming up with the best possible solutions for our besieged agricultural industries and I thank the Premier for taking my experience into account in asking me to help," he said.

"I have spent the past 30 years working in this area as a Member of Parliament, as an Agriculture and Water Minister and as President of the Victoria Farmers Federation – and before that ran my own farming enterprise, so I am confident I will have plenty of suggestions to benefit this vital taskforce.

"This is where you truly represent the people, when the politics are put aside and we come together to help everyday Victorians – and that's what everyone on this taskforce will be doing."

Walsh said the season break on which farming relies so heavily has failed to materialise at this point, with May's rainfall now classified as 'worst case scenario' and no immediate signs of any improvement.

He says there is also a tragic darker side to the drought, with media reports showing farmers and country advocates sounding warning bells over a steep decline in mental health spreading across regional Victoria as the drought worsens.

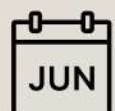

The family of Patrick & Pearl Cornwell (both deceased), formerly of Bamawm and Lockington, would like to take this opportunity to thank Dr Patrick & all the Nursing Staff at the Lockington Bush Nursing Centre for the professional love & care they showed our parents, & the support they gave me whilst nursing them in their end of life.

We the family are fulfilling their last wishes by taking them home to be interred together, with their families at the Columbarium Gardens, Maryborough Lawn Cemetery QLD.

They will be taking their last ride home on the 14th of July 2025.

Thank you to all their neighbours and friends who helped us through our sad loss. - Sherryl

Exploration licences granted

Fosterville Gold Mine (FGM) has recently been granted exploration licences in the regions of Lockington, Rochester and Elmore. These licences grant exclusive rights to explore for minerals, but do not permit mining.

FGM has a proud history of supporting local organisations and projects, and we look forward to strengthening our ties with the communities in and around these exploration licences.

Continued investment

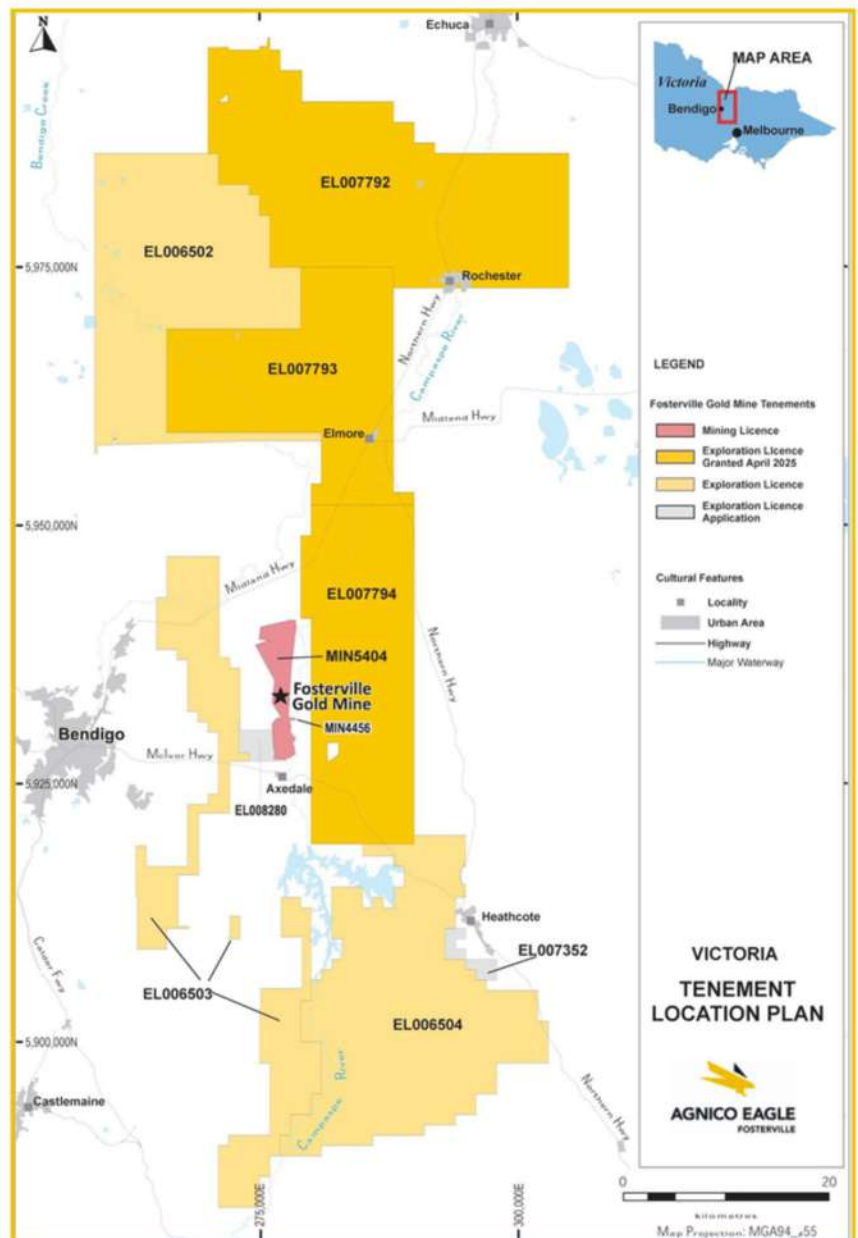

The new licences will expand FGM's exploration tenure within the Central Victorian region and will enable our continued investment into the local region.

Our approach is to build collaborative and trusted relationships with local communities, through the provision of timely and accurate information regarding our exploration activities.

In the coming months, Fosterville Gold Mine will commence exploration activities along various roadsides within the licence areas.

Further information regarding the proposed exploration activity will be provided in advance of any work commencing.

Payuporleave, which had been racing in super form for Lockington trainer Shane Pangrazio with two wins and two placings from his previous four starts, finished down the track in the same race.

In thoroughbred circles, Cindy Felmingham celebrated a win at Echuca on 3 June as a part owner of Vianarra (pictured).

The three-year-old gelding broke through for a deserved maiden success after placing at his first four runs this preparation and started an even money favourite.

LOCKINGTON BOWLS CLUB NEWS

1 JUNE

Lockington Bowls Club members are still active with the weekly game of Scrounge attracting good numbers.

Wednesday's high score of 60 points belonged to John Van Den Bosch ahead of Andrew Harris on 53 points.

On the adjoining rink Graeme Wood on 57 points proved too elusive for John Andrea 53 and Peter Egan 34. It was a glorious afternoon for bowls.

The ideal conditions on Saturday realised some precision bowling from all involved.

Owen "Smiley" McPhee and Graeme Wood could not be separated after each amassing 53 points to share the spoils.

Pos Andrea led the rink three field home carding a fine score of 47 points while Steve Peter had to be content with 42 points.

Scrounge will continue on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, starting at 1.30pm.

The Club offers well wishes to John Dowie following recent and ongoing therapy.
